I bought an issue of the Computers Buyer's Guide this month to see how it compared with the Computer Shoppers. The new magazine is almost an exact copy of the Computer Shopper, having the same format and features. The new magazine has sections on classical computers (including T/S). The book carries about 1/3 the advertising of the Computer Shopper but I am sure as time goes on this will increase. If you are interested the address for a subscription is :
